

Podcast Producer

Job Summary:

Are you passionate about storytelling and podcasting? Join our small, collaborative team where you'll play a vital role in all aspects of podcast production. From pitch meetings to final cuts, you'll help shape captivating audio stories about immigrants. This nationally promoted show offers hands-on experience under the guidance of executive producers.

Many Roads to Here brings the voices of immigrants, refugees, and asylum seekers to a national conversation about migration and identity. This podcast is a production of The Immigrant Story and utilizes the power of storytelling as immigrants share their hopes, resilience, courage and love in their own voice.

People of color and people with immigrant backgrounds — producers, podcasters, and storytellers — are especially encouraged to apply.

Earn a highly competitive market rate of up to $600 per episode produced.

Responsibilities and Duties:

- Work with the executive producers to develop the show from conception to release and actively contribute to its creative development
- Brainstorm timely episode themes and topics that resonate with our audience
- Collaborate on recording, editing, and mixing alongside audio engineers with a particular focus on shaping the creative narrative of each episode
- Be the narrative voice for your episodes

Qualifications and Skills:

- Experience in two or more of the following skills: podcasting, radio broadcasting, journalism, oral history, storytelling
- Strong storytelling sensibilities: an ability to identify anecdotes that can bring a larger idea or research to life
- Ability to consistently work well with others, and work on projects collaboratively
- Ability to take constructive feedback and continuously improve
- Have an affinity for speaking in front of the microphone
- Previous recording experience is not necessary
- Be passionate about immigrant and refugees causes
- Must be 18 years of age or older.

Job Type: Freelance, earn up to $600 per episode

Contact: sankar@theimmigrantstory.org (<http://theimmigrantstory.org>)

